

SA's first vegan Marula-flavoured liqueur hits the shelves

Just in time for Veganuary, Checkers LiquorShop has launched South Africa's first vegan-friendly Marula-flavoured liqueur under its popular African Dew private label, to cater for customers who are passionate about living a plant-based lifestyle.

Being vegan no longer means having to forego a much-loved Springbokkie. The new African Dew Vegan Marula-flavoured liqueur is perfect to enjoy on its own, over ice, or as an addition to cocktails, shooters and desserts.

The 100% plant-based liqueur is also gluten- and nut free, and available nationwide exclusively from Checkers LiquorShop stores and on Sixty60.

Other variants of the African Dew cream liqueur range include strawberry, chocolate, coffee, condensed milk and marula-flavours.
